Lincoln Longwool Sheep and Shorthorn Cattle

RAM HOGG the property of HENRY DUDDING.

DUDDING, HENRY, Riby Grove, Great Grimsby, Lincolnshire, has always for inspection and sale the largest Flock of pure Lincoln Longwool Sheep in the country, including many prize-winners, having taken prizes for many years at the "Royal" and other Shows for both Rams and Ewes, including Champion Medals at both the Paris Exhibitions, Vienna, Amsterdam, Canada, Australia, New Zealand and all the leading prizes at the Chicago Exhibition; also the first for the best collection of Lincoln fleeces of wool at the "Royal" Windsor Show, and the Lincolnshire Show, which proves the character of this Flock. The Sheep are the most famous for their great size and 125 years' good breeding. The young Rams this year are a very fine, well-grown lot, and are by most noted sires, namely, Riby Royal Darlington 2,185, the prize shearling, which was never beaten last year; Mere 88 Guineas 2,052, one of the most leading shearlings at the Lincoln Fair; Riby, Scopwick A. 1,207, the sire of many of my prize sheep; and other noted Stud Rams. Mr. Dudding's average this year at Lincoln Ram Fair was £102 4s., the first six averaging over 160 gs. Rams from this Flock have made the highest average on record this year of any breed. The Pure-bred Shorthorn Herd, comprising 150 leading specimens of Booth, Bates, Cruickshanks, and Scotch descent. Principal Sires now in service: Golden Robin 68718 (a rich roan); a noted prize winner sire Roan Robin 57,997, dam Golden Sunshine by (Royal James 54,972; Rosebery 8th (dark red), sire Crusader 62349, dam Rose of Wicken 5th, Herdbook vol. 36 p. 527; Unicorn 69735 (red) sire Reuben 64657 dam Ursulina 8th, Herdbook vol. 34 p. 219. Telegrams KEELBY, Railway Stations; Stallingboro' three miles, and Great Grimsby seven miles.
N.B.—A grand selection from the Flock and Herd will be sold by public auction at Riby on July 27, 1897.

From the feast of St. Joseph March 19th 1897 until the same Feast 1898.
The object of the Ladies Society of St. Joseph is the protection of homeless and destitute boys of English Speaking Parents.
The boys are under the supervision of the Priests and Brothers of the order of St. Joseph and receive a suitable secular and a thorough religious education, as well as being taught various trades which will fit them for after life.
The Institution is supported by contributions of the faithful.
The holder of this card by subscribing three dollars yearly is entitled to a share in a weekly Mass which is celebrated every Friday in the Orphanage Chapel, also a share in the Holy Rosary which is said for them daily by the Orphans.
Letters enclosing subscriptions may be addressed either to the V. R. Father Superior Boys Orphanage—Capilla del Señor F. C. C. A. or to Mrs. Dr. Murphy—Calle Tucuman 627 or Mrs. O'Curry 1445 Rivadavia—Buenos Aires. 1079 21 xp

Montevideo, 24th.

The Brazilian steamer Porto Alegre arrived this afternoon with the Red Cross expedition that left here for the frontier, some weeks ago, under the direction of Don José A. Ferreira, and Dr. Jacinto de Leon. A special escort of honor embarked in the tug 'Emperor' to accompany them into the port.

The Brazilian estanciero Serafin Ignacio de Medeiros, who shot his wife and daughter and then shot himself, was sixty six years old; all three were buried this afternoon. This horribly tragedy was premeditated by Medeiros who left letters to friends and to his attorney with instructions regarding the disposal of his valuable estate which, as he has no natural heirs, he leaves to the Sociedad Brazilera de Beneficencia. Two thousand dollars in gold and valuable jewels were found in the house, and, in a letter to his friend, Ramon Silveira, he said that it was impossible to live longer under the circumstances.

The sudden death last night of the Sra. Fernanda Villegas de Garcia Zuñiga, wife of the well known civil engineer, Dr. Manuel Garcia Zuñiga, at the marriage of her niece, Miss Clara Urtubey, to Mr. Enrique Puig, has cast a gloom over this entire community. The Sra. Garcia Zuñiga was a lady of distinction and great personal merit and will be deeply lamented by a wide circle of friends.

Don Saturnino Ribes the wealthy and enterprising ship owner, proprietor of the Mensagerias Fluviales del Plata, died today at 12 m.

Don Julio Herrera y Obes will give weekly teas and free lunch to his friends during the winter months to fortify them for the month of March.

The Western Railway Company expect to inaugurate the branch from the port of Sauce to San José in September.

Captain Guillermo Lyons, Secretary to Minister Tajes, arrived to-day, according to the papers, with important communications for President Borda.

Cuban rebels execute 36 Spaniards

The captured Dauntless

Massacre of Belgian troops in the Congo

The Jubilee Fetes

5 Officers assassinated in Bombay

England and Hawaii

Habana, 24th—The Siguanea territory is now completely pacified. The rebels lost 50 men killed in another fight this morning.

Constantinople, 24th—The Sultan appears to have made up his mind for peace; and if the present Cabinet persist in its policy, a new one will be named with Riaz Pasha as Premier.

London, 24th—The foreign Admirals breakfasted this morning in Windsor Castle, and were subsequently presented to the Queen. A storm broke at noon, and put a stop to all the out-door festivities planned for the day.

London, 24th—The Jubilee fetes are still going on. The illuminations last night were splendid; but there were, unfortunately, many cab accidents at the West End, some of them fatal. The number of people in the streets at night was even greater than during the procession on the 22d.

Brussels, 24th—La Reforme of to-day confirms the massacre of the Belgian expedition in the Congo under Mayor Dhanis; he and all his officers had their throats cut by the natives.

Paris, 24th—Explorer Bonvalot arrived here to-day from Abyssinia. He succeeded in making a new treaty with Negus Menelik, very advantageous for France.

Washington, 24th—The Cuban fillibustering steamer Dauntless, captured by the U.S cruiser Indian Key, on the high seas, has been sent under escort to Jacksonville, where the captain and crew will be tried for violation of the neutrality laws.

Rome, 24th—In the Deputies to-day Imbriani made a great speech, recalling the anniversary of the battle of Solferino, hoping that France and Italy would soon again be as close friends as they were in that memorable fight.

Bombay, 24th—The Poonah sect of the Brahmins distributed yesterday thousands of seditious fly-sheets that have created great excitement amongst the native population. The sheets protest against the Jubilee fetes, and say that only demons celebrate their conquest while plague, famine and earthquake afflict the peoples conquered; and even the temples are infected with the plagues brought on the country by the conquerors. The people are incited to rise and crush the British conquerors, and are told that their god Brahma will help them.

Last night, while 5 British officers were returning to their barracks from the Jubilee Fetes, they were all shot dead by individuals concealed behind trees, and it is feared that several more officers have met the same fate. The European residents are very anxious.

Washington, 24th — Ex-Senator Edmunds holds frequent interviews with President McKinley in reference to the new treaty of arbitration with Great Britain which he and the British Ambassador, Sir Julian Pauncefote, are framing. The clauses that caused the rejection of the first treaty have been eliminated, and it is considered certain that the Senate will sanction the new one.

London, 24th—The seven Colonial Premiers now in London for the Jubilee will hold a conference at which the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, will preside, to discuss the great question of Imperial Federation, fiscal and military.

New York, 24th—The Cuban residents here are preparing to send delegates to a Constituent Assembly which will meet at Puerto Principe on the 2nd of September, the Marquis of Santa Lucia presiding. The Assembly will discuss a reform of the present Cuban Constitution, and also the bases of a commercial treaty with the United States.

Deptford, 24th—To-day 1155 Argentine steers were sold in this market at from 30 to 34 pence per stone. There is very little demand, and the prices offering are low. 4852 wethers were also sold at 44 pence per stone. Demand is brisk, and it is expected that all the stock on hand will be disposed of.

THIS MORNING'S TELEGRAMS.

(Received after Midnight)

Solferino, 24th—Religious services in memory of those who fell in the famous battle of Solferino, gained by the allied French and Italian armies over the Austrians, were held here to-day, and were more numerously attended than usual.

London, 24th—The Princess of Wales was present at three of the many dinners, given in different parts of the City to 300,000 poor people. These dinners had been organized under the auspices of Her Royal Highness.

Madrid, 14th—The Official Gazette announces that the Treasury receipts during the last 11 months of the financial year 1896-7 have exceeded by 29 million pesetas the receipts during the same period in the former year; but that, on the other hand, the expenses of the Nation have exceeded by 22 millions those estimated in the Budget.

Berlin, 24th. — The Prussian Upper House is examining the Government Bill in reference to the rights of Association. The Minister of the Interior is anxious that the House should vote the Bill in its original form without the amendments subsequently introduced by the Lower House.

Rome, 24th—The Deputies recommenced this afternoon the discussion of the last paragraphs in the Budget for the Interior. The Government hopes that the entire Budget will have been voted before the end of the month.

New York, 24th—It is announced here that the Cuban rebel General, Monteagudo, has shot 36 Spanish prisoners as a reprisal for the cruelties committed by General Weyler.

Bombay, 24th Great precautions have been adopted by the Government in consequence of the seditious fly-sheets distributed amongst the natives inciting them to rebel against British rule.

London, 24th—Mr. Curzon declared to-night in the House that the Government would insist on strict respect being paid to British rights in Hawaii by the United States, adding at the same time that there was no reason to fear that the annexation of the islands would cause any serious difficulties with Major McKinley's Government.

THE VOTE IN THE DEPUTIES.

The sanction by the National Deputies of Dr. Davila's minute to the Government by a sweeping majority is nothing short of a sensational vote of censure, which must be very galling to the President and his Ministers, more especially Dr. Alcorta, Minister for Foreign Affairs. The minute requests the Executive to display more energy in exacting from the Uruguayan Government respect for Argentine sovereignty, and guaranteeing Argentine commerce from the aggression of the military and civil authorities of our neighbor. To say the least, this minute is uncalled for, all the more so as the Argentine Foreign Office had already taken all the necessary diplomatic steps and obtained redress for the outrage at Pacheco on the Uruguay river. This minute places the Argentine Executive in an awkward position, is an act of hostility to the Borda Government, and serves no practical purpose.

It is not creditable to the Deputies that such an important matter should have actually been voted without discussion. Deputy Davila presented the minute, explained it in a lengthy and interesting speech, nobody answered, and the matter was voted there and then by 33 votes against 11. In this very precipitate legislation, however, it is idle to conceal the fact that people are not satisfied with the obsequious policy of Minister Alcorta towards the Borda Government, and it is very significant that no deputy cared to oppose the minute. The sympathies of Argentines are with the Blanco revolutionists, and the National Deputies share that popular feeling. The two Uruguayan Ministers near the Argentine Government should not lose sight of this fact; and if they are to be congratulated on the success of their diplomacy in converting President Uriburu's Government into a police force of President Borda along the river Uruguay, they should be most careful to avoid all causes of friction, such as the landing at Pacheco, the stoppage of vessels in Argentine waters, etc.

Deputy Davila stated in the Deputies that the present situation between the two Governments is one of gravity. Thanks to the eloquent deputy and his minute, the scenes have shifted, and the situation may became critical. We should think that President Uriburu would act rightly by sending his whole Cabinet to the House of Deputies to defend the Protocol that is impugned by Dr. Davila's minute. Should the Government carry the votes of the House, all would be well; but should it be defeated, then affairs would enter a serious stage, and, perhaps, this is the chief object of the minute.

In international matters there is no better course than the "suaviter in modo;" and here let us remember that in all our dealings with the Banda Oriental we must be forbearing. We are also Blancos and Colorados on this side of the river, just as they were Unitarios and Federals not so long ago. Tampering with Uruguay is always dangerous; from the days of Artigas to date Argentines know it to their cost, the war with Brazil, the war with Paraguay were the outcome of Uruguayan intrigues. All our ill-winds blow from the old province that once belonged to the United Provinces, and it would be folly to reopen some sad chapters in history, because popular feelings cannot brook a Colorado President in the Mount. There is no plausible reason for "riding the high horse" with the Uruguayan Government, and we are glad to see that the majority of the Argentine press are of this opinion and endeavour to be conciliatory. Only one paper—one of the most influential, unfortunately—is aggressive, and loudly demands a satisfaction that must be humiliating to the Uruguayan Government.

THE MADERO PORT.

YESTERDAY'S INAUGURATION.

OFFICIAL OPENING OF GRAVING-DOCKS.

ENORMOUS CONCOURSE OF SPECTATORS.

The port yesterday presented an aspect of unprecedented animation; the splendid weather, the circumstance of the day being a holiday, and the announcement of the official opening of the graving-docks and North Basin having combined to draw a great part of the population to the quays, where there was barely standing-room. Indeed, without exaggeration, we may say that 50,000 people lined the docks and filled the vessels in port. It was a glorious spectacle. A bright, warm sun had dispersed the mist and dissolved the clouds of the morning, and the weather was perfect until about 2 p.m. when the clouds gathered to shut out the solar radiance, without, however, spoiling the day's festivities. In the North Basin and Dock Nº 4 the Argentine and foreign war-vessels, including the Beagle and the Yantic, were moored, decked out in all the glory of bunting, and in the graving-docks were a steamer (the Bellarena) and an Argentine cruiser. Add to that, two regiments of the Line drawn up along Dock Nº 2 and presenting arms on the arrival of H. E. the President, while the strains of lovely music filled the air and thrilled the spectators.

There were no ladies in the official party, but the fair sex was not to be kept out, and nearly all the pleasure-steamers and tugs in port were resplendent with fashion and beauty. Towards 1 p.m. H.E made his appearance in his official coach and four, escorted by the gorgeously uniformed guard. He alighted between Docks 2 and 3, where the special train—composed of neat carriages, easily recognised by their irreproachable equipment as belonging to the Rosario Railway—was waiting. H.E. was surrounded by his Ministers, many Generals, and other leading personages, amongst whom we may mention 'en passant' Mr. Escalante, Finance Minister, Generals Capdevila, Campos and Bosch, Admi. Soler, Mr Melchor Rom, Director of Revenue, etc. H. E. was met by Messrs Madero, sons of the deceased concessionaire; Mr. Dobson, of the firm of Engineers Hayter, Hawkshaw, and Dobson, Mr. Simpson of the firm of contractors T.A. Walker Extrs., Mr. David Suffern, Mr. Rankin, and other leading members of the staff. His Excellency and his Ministers accompanied by Mr. W. Barrington, Mr. Buchanan, Mr. Christophersen, Count Antonelli, and other members of the Diplomatic Corps, and by the Archbishop, were installed in a reserved car attached to the train, which was found small to accommodate all, for many of the guests had to stand.

The bands struck up the Ituzaingó March, and the train started very slowly, for the load was a precious one, and the mounted escort galloped alongside, probably to keep the enthusiastic and sovereign people from laying hands on the train and paying their respects to H.E. The party were thus conveyed along Dock 2 and the South Basin, crowded with vessels loading or discharging, and all decked out with flags. Having reached the extremity of the Basin, the train returned at the same snail-like, prudent pace to the pumping-house, which the guests slighted to visit. H.E. was enchanted and in fact so was everyone. The workshops were also visited, Messrs. Dobson, Simpson and Suffern explaining the beautiful simplicity of the machines and pumps to the visitors. Then came the lunch. In one of the sheds, a few tables had been put together and covered with a white cloth. The cloth was covered with glasses, flowers and sandwiches. It looked nice, but insufficient, for there were 500 guests to be provided for, but there was plenty of music at any rate. We look upon this official parsimony as a wholesome sign. It points to retrenchment. Mr. Madero read a speech, which no one could hear, on account of a noisy band that would not stop playing, and President Uriburu replied inaudibly, for the same reason. All then resumed their seats in the train, which conveyed us slowly, solemnly and surely to the graving-docks, to the silent joy of the thousands and tens of thousands of mortals, who lined the quays and who gave proof of their good feeling by joining the Presidential Party, as soon as the latter alighted.

There were no cheers but very soon a terrible concert burst upon the ears of the concourse. On the one hand, the enlivening strains of the Ituzaingo March, on the other the deafening whistling of Mihanovichs's tugs, a fleet of which were arrayed in the Basin, combined to produce a weird harmony that no one who was present will ever forget. It was delightfully dreadful. And then the crush! What a crowd! It covered every available space and dangerously fringed the quays. It swarmed over the caissons. It adulterated the Presidential Party, who were soon "rari nantes in gurgite vasto." H. E. fresh, indefatigable, ever curious, ever delighted, dragged his Ministers and his Generals after him in a tour round the graving docks, one of which was occupied by an Argentine steamer and the other by an Argentine cruiser. H. E. saluted the crowd with heroic perseverance and examined every datail of the scene with apparent relish. Finally, he and the little left of the party, boarded a gunboat and steamed through the basin and docks, and the enormous crowd dispersed. And thus the day's festivity was brought to a close.

The two basins and the four docks, and the two dry-docks are now finished, but the port, in the opinion of many, is not yet complete. The immense warehouses, which caused the admiration of the whole party, are not yet finished. Then there is the small craft refuge, which has not yet been commenced. But even as it stands, the Madero Port is the only solid, sound, monumental work that Argentina so far can boast of. It is a credit to all concerned; to the indefatigable concessionaire who died before its completion, but whose name will for ever live associated with the work: to the engineers who planned it: to the contractors who built it, and to the Nation who paid for it.

LONDON LETTER.

ITEMS OF THE HOUR.

STATISTICS OF THE JUBILEE SHOW.

(From our own Correspondent.)

May, 26th

Undoubtedly the most important item is that the very newest fashion in London is the Hallelujah Girl's head dress—that is, the fine ladies have come out in Salvation poke bonnets. The shape is said to be more than half a century old. The first this season appeared only last Saturday, when the Prince and Princess of Wales opened the Blackwall tunnel. The next day there were several at Church parade in Hyde Park. As the Daily Mail observes, the old'uns amongst the men straightened their backs and could hardly believe their eye-glasses. They fancied themselves young again. The dressmakers of Regent street and Bond street shrug their shoulders and prophesy it cannot last, it is too ugly. But a yellow silk "salvation" nicely trimmed with yellow ribbons on dark hair framing a pretty face and rosy complexion they say in ravishing. The fashion is just what was to be expected as a recoil from those monstrous hats looking like flower stands which got so common. Society was bound to rush towards the other extreme. It is perhaps a jubilee notion, for if I mistake not there is a portrait of the Queen in a little poke bonnet of about the year 1845. As you can imagine, everything now in the shops windows is "jubilee", and the London streets along the route of the procession on Commemoration day begin to present the appearance of a timber yard. Notably St Paul's square, and wherever there is a church. Town is already very full and very gay, but the prices for seats do not rise, and there have been one or two precious swindles. The chaps have taken the money, and given handsome, and carefully numbered tickets 'according to plan,' and have bolted. Some of the workmen too are beginning to turn rusty, and talk of striking for 'jubilee wages.' On the Surrey side there are plenty of seats on Church platforms to be had for a guinea. On Commemoration Day it is estimated there will be nine millions of people in this little village of ours. You can make the calculation how many on the five miles route will see the procession? The problem is what is to be done with the remainder? The police are suggesting counter attractions in the parks and suburbs. The greatest crush will be at the illuminations, and from all accounts these will be the finest part of the show. The preparations near the Bank of England are on a magnificent scale. How would you like to be in Mansion House Square, when on that night four vast columns of sight-seers must invade it respectively from Moorgate Street to the North, Cheapside and Queen Victoria Street to the West, London Bridge and King William Street to the South, and Lombard Street and Bishopsgate Street to the East. To keep the crowd moving will tax all the known ability of the London police. The square itself between the Royal Exchange, the Mansion House, the Bank of England and Cheapside is not very capacious. Let us have no Moscow horror on jubilee night. As to the weather, the prophets promise only four days upon which it is likely to rain in June—the 5th, 13th, 23rd and 28th. The barometer will be most depressed on the 23rd, so that it is likely to rain two hours before or two hours after twelve on the Diamond Jubilee night. All this is a long way off, and perhaps you do not care about it so soon, but you must pardon us, as we are jubilee mad. Whitsuntide is close upon us, and the next month will be all holiday time. They say a hundred millions will be spent in London. But how much will be lost by disturbance to business? How much thrown away in useless expenditure? What does it matter? The ancient monarchical sentiment is on the flow once more. The dismal science no longer obtains, and the red spectres of the earlier days of Her Majesty's reign are exorcised. The infection of the hour has reached our republican friends in the United States Senate. Its blind chaplain has prayed most eloquently for blessings on Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain and Ireland and for amity between the American and British peoples. As an unusual honour the prayer was ordered to be printed in full in the journals of the Senate. Alas! it is not all gold that glitters. Who does not know Mr. Chauncey Depew? On a recent visit to England he was a favourite in our aristocratic society and he returned to New York brimming with anglomania. But—a beastly word—but he was then hoping to be nominated Ambassador to London. He wasn't. And now he says:—"An Anglo-American war is inevitable. 'Blood' is thicker than water, as a sentiment, is out of data."

Scratch a capitalist and you will find a fiend. Let us to our statistics. In my weak way, I have already said, as a writer in the Daily Mail hath said, "in the streets of London on the Jubilee route 'the carpenter reigns supreme." He adds: "Tap, tap, rings the hammer followed by a duller sound as the iron bolt or nail goes home. On all sides steel-teethed saws are singing a whirry-whizzy monotone as they sever the firewood and spruce, and shower the disintegrated atoms into the eyes of uplookers." Then he gets to business. "From the setting out to the return, the Queen will have been cheered and perhaps seen by 225,910 men, women and children seated in erected stands of a total weight of 79,063 tons of timber and 564 tons of iron, and representing a superficial area of 254,147 square feet. If the seats were put end to end they would reach from London to Eastbourne, with an intervening gap of only 1408 yards, for in length they are over sixty-four miles, and the total cubic feet of timber used, or to be used in outdoor stands for the Jubilee day is three billion one hundred and sixty-two millions seven hundred and forty thousand—in cold numeral type 3,162,740,000." If you want more "cold numerals" vide Daily Mail of this date.

There was a delightful dance given by Mr. John Lis in his fine house in Barracas on Wednesday night. Several Deputies and local magnates were present. Our German Correspondent, Don Emilio, had the honour to propose the health of the charming hostess, which was drunk in sparkling champagne.

HAWAII, CUBA AND THE UNITED STATES

In political circles in Washington, and in fact throughout the country, the protest of the Japanese Government against the Hawaiian annexation treaty has caused much indignation. The irritation is caused principally by the undiplomatic and insolent form of the protest. The Secretary of State has replied to the protest, which is considered little short of an ultimatum, with a note couched in dignified and firm tones. Mr. Sherman denies the right of Japan to intervene in a negotiation between two independent nations that meets all the requirements of international law. Japan is assured that her subjects in Hawaii have nothing to fear from the annexation, for, from the moment that it takes place, all foreigners resident in the islands will enjoy every privilege of the constitution and laws of the United States accorded to inhabitants of a territory of the Union, and the Japanese in Hawaii will be under conditions identical with those accorded to persons of that nationality in the States.

The immediate effect of the Japanese protest has been to cause many politicians and other persons who have previously viewed the annexation scheme with little enthusiasm to rally to its support. The Republican Representatives to Congress from the State of Ohio have presented a resolution in the House favoring the annexation. The treaty does not come before the House and is a matter for the consideration of the President and Senate alone, and any action that the House may take in the matter will simply be to let the Senators know how the direct representatives of the people feel in regard to it. Senator Morgan is also to the front, as usual; this time with a resolution embodying a scheme to facilitate the prompt carrying out of the annexation.

At yesterday's sitting of the House of Commons, Major Ernest W. Beckett, Member for Whitby, was to interpellate the Parliamentary Secretary of the Foreign Office in respect to the Hawaiian annexation. He was to ask if the Government is aware that the Queen of Hawaii was dethroned by a small group of Americans who, without law or right, assumed control of the Government of the islands, and now, to protect themselves from the just resentment of the populace, have solicited annexation to the United States. Also, if the British Government proposes to permit that important coaling station to pass into the hands of the United States without protest. We look forward to the reply of the Right Hon. George N. Curzon with interest, for, if we are not greatly at fault, both the United States and Great Britain each received a grant of land for coaling stations only a few years ago, and as we remember it, the grant was absolute in both cases, the land now being in the one case, United States, and the other, British territory. We had this in mind when we stated a few days ago that the British interest in the Hawaiian annexation affair was very real.

Mr. Murat Halstead, the well-known and influential proprietor of the Louisville (Kentucky) Courier-Journal has published in the New York Herald, with his signature, an important article bearing on the Cuban question. Mr. Halstead says: that he feels himself authorized to declare, not by official communications but by the force of events, that before the end of the presenty rainy season military operations in the island will have terminated; the Cubans in the meantime having gained their liberty, and the Spaniards, without loss of honor to their arms and without the fall of the present dynasty, withdrawing their troops and warships from Cuban after having being indemnified by the new Cuban Government. The writer says the decisive step for the conclusion of peace will be instituted by the United States, the Government being authorized by a special act of Congress to exert in this case unusual powers.

Mr. Halstead further says that the Rothschilds have refused to launch another loan for Spain, which nation, in view of various international questions pending, is in great want of money, and will be obliged to accept the plan proposed by the American Government as the only method by which Cuba can be pacified.

1st—Independence of the Island of Cuba.

2nd.—Evacuation of Cuba by the Spaniards.

3rd.—The payment to Spain of a indemnity of $100,000,000 gold for the withdrawal of Spanish sovereignty. This indemnity to be paid with Bonds guaranteed by the customs collections of the ports of the island, which will be looked after by special representatives appointed by the American Government.

Mr. Halstead truly says that the gains to both parties would be clear; Cuba gaining independence, peace and prosperity; Spain, the stoppage of a horrible and disastrous war, peace, there-establishment of her credit and security from internal troubles.

Cuba, he considers irredeemably lost to Spain, and it would be an act of statesmanship and patriotism to secure in exchange for this loss a just compensation from the Cubans.

The island once free has a great future in store for it, and the United States in return for having contributed to the conclusion of the war would increase its commerce with the island by millions of dollars annually.

This certainly seems a fair arrangement, and we have no doubt that it would be acceptable to the Cubans. Its publication will make quite an impression in the United States, but how will the Spaniards receive such a suggestion? Aye there's the rub.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT FOR IRELAND.

MR. BALFOUR'S STATEMENT.

Friday, May 21st.

Mr. Balfour said he had deferred from week to week making a statement in reply to certain questions which had been addressed to him from the other side of the House. Some of those questions related to the Agriculture and Industries (Ireland) Bill or to the other Bills now on the paper in the name of the Government having reference to Irish administration; and there were other questions relating to the policy of the Government in connexion with a grant to Ireland based on similar lines to those adopted in last year's Act which gave relief to the rates on agricultural land in England. In the view of the Government these two questions were inextricably intertwined with their policy in regard to the legislation brought forward this Session for Ireland, and in regard to any possible dealing with rates in Ireland. The Government had declared that in their view there was no claim in strict equity for giving to Ireland the many thousands of pounds which would be required if the rating question were to be treated on lines similar to those adopted in England. He was conscious, of course, that he was not in agreement with the Nationalist members, and that their opinions on the subject were shared by Irish representatives on the Ministerialist side and by the great majority of the people of Ireland. Upon the question of abstract equity the Government had not changed their minds, but even if they took a different view upon this question there would be the very greatest difficulty in giving any large subvention in relief of local rates in Ireland until the question of local government was settled. It would not be in the power of any Government to consider the question of large subventions to Irish rates apart from the question of a large modification of Irish local government. The machinery in existence was of an antiquated character, although no members on that side of the House denied that as far as county administration was concerned the work of the grand juries had been done honestly and economically. They had also invariably admitted that both the machinery for administering county government and the machinery for administering the Poor Law in Ireland belonged to a class of political machinery which we had rejected in England and Scotland and which the party to which he belonged had pledged themselves to reform in Ireland. The Bill introdueed by him in 1892, dealing with the special difficulties of Irish administration, did not proceed very far. The objection taken to it was that while it put Irish local government on a broad, popular basis, as far as the franchise was concerned, it was hedged round with elaborate precautions and safeguards. Her Majesty's Government had considered whether there was not at the present time an opportunity, and perhaps an absolutely unique opportunity, of meeting the difficulties they had always felt in the extension of local government in Ireland, and of meeting at the same time the claims put forward by all classes of Irish opinion. Her Majesty's Government believed that a plan could be devised by which both those great objects might be attained. The measure could not be introduced until next Session, but he might state that, broadly speaking, the plan of the Government was to place both the Poor Law administration and the county administration upon a broad, popular basis. This could only be done if the owners of agricultural land were relieved of the apprehension which they entertained with regard to the possible extravagance of the new popular bodies. The Government held, therefore, that the landlords must be relieved from all rural rates in Ireland in future. This he frankly admitted, was a broad depar ure from the policy pursued in England and Scotland. Roughly speaking, the landlord's liability for agricultural land at this moment consisted in paying half the poor rate.

That half the Government proposed to pay out of Imperial funds. They alse proposed to relieve the tenant by paying half the county cess. While there was this double benefit to the two classes, it would be observed that the Government gained the object they had in view—viz, that of launching local government under circumstances which would enable it to work smoothly and safely for all classes. In any Bill for local government for Ireland provisions ought to be introduced in order to secure, first, that the tenant should reap the whole benefit of the half of the county cess to be given to him out of the Imperial Exchequer; and, secondly, that he should reap the whole benefit from any economies which might be introduced into the administrative system. On the other hand, the landlord ought to be protected from any extravagance due to the inexperience or design of the new county councils and Poor Law guardians. It was unusual to ask the House to listen to proposals which would not be placed effectively before it until next Session; but hon. members would see that, as the Government had foreshadowed a general relief of rates on agricultural land in Ireland and the establishment of popular self-government on a basis that would prevent the financial abuses which had caused widespread alarm in various quarters, the Agriculture and Industries Bill and the Poor Law Bill could not be proceeded with in the present session. This was an alternative policy, inflicted indeed an incomparably larger charge upon the public exchequer, but a charge which he felt certain the country at large, and the Unionist party in particular, would not grudge. A change in Irish Government could not long be delayed; this was a most favourable time for effecting it; and he believed that all classes of the community would regard with favour what he thought would prove to be one of the greatest reforms, carried out under the safest circumstances, that had ever been suggested to the attention of the House.

Mr. Carson moved the adjournment of the House for the purpose of discussing the statement which had just been made. With regard to the relations of this country with Ireland, he observed, probably no more important statement had been made in recent times. The proposals of the first Lord of the Treasury appeared to him to be not only statesmanlike, but entirely in accordance with Unionist principles.

Mr. Dillon also regarded the statement as a most important one, but remarked that until he had had an opportunity of consulting with his colleagues he could not express any opinion in reference to the proposals. Colonel Saunderson, without pledging himself in any way, observed that, as far as he could see at present, he viewed the statement with great satisfaction; Mr. T. M. Healy had never known so hopeful and auspicious a statement to be made by a Tory Government; Sir J. Lubbock gave expression to his belief that English and Scotch members would view the proposals with sympathy and approval; Mr. Rentoul hailed with delight the statement of the First Lord of the Treasury: Sir H. Campbell-Bannerman assured the Government that the Opposition would meet the Government in no carping or grudging spirit; and Mr. Bartley, Mr. J. Redmond, Sir R. Penrose FitzGerald, Sir J. Haslett, and Mr. Lough expressed general approval of the scheme.

Mr. Balfour, replying to questions, said he had been asked to say what would be the fate of the Bill for establishing an Agricultural Department in Ireland. The Government still held that a Bill of that kind would be of great advantage to Ireland, but he was unable at the present time to give any pledge with regard to the reintroduction of the scheme. The relief which it was proposed to grant in respect of rating would be confined, as in England, to agricultural land, excluding buildings. The grant would be a fixed grant. In conclusion he thanked hon. gentlemen on both sides of the House for the sympathetic manner in which they had received the proposals of the Government.

THE CHILDREN'S BALL.

There is perhaps no sight which appeals more strongly to the hearts of most of us than the innocent pleasure of children, whether they be dressed in silks and laces or only rags and tatters; and it was indeed a happy inspiration of those who generously devoted themselves to the laborious task of arranging the several Jubilee fetes, to provide preeminently for the enjoyment and pleasure of the little ones. In Buenos Aires the commemoration of our beloved Sovereign's marvelous Record-day has been chiefly remarkable for the excessive pains take to render the children happy and this unique event in their lives will, even when they are old men and women, be inseparably bound up in their minds with joyous memories. It seems to have been realized that the Queen, Herself the fond and devoted mother of so many, would on this memorable occasion, after 60 years' of her great and glorious reign, above all desire that the younger subjects of Her Empire should have special cause to remember in it after years.

The Children's Ball, which took place yesterday afternoon in Prince George's Hall, was the third and last of the series specially devoted to the rising generation and, for the amount of innocent enjoyment derived from it, came not one whit behind the Circus entertainment and the High School Pic-nic. Between children, those of a larger growth and parents, not less than 1,000 people held high revel yesterday to the strains of enchanting music, which charmed into graceful movement so many hundred little figures. Nor was by any means neglected that most sensitive portion of their little frames—their stomach. A good supper, sandwiches and cakes, tea and lemonade fortified the juvenile dancers and went far towards the full realization of those happy dreams which had for weeks been beguiling the watches of the night.

Of the ball itself what shall we say? For five happy hours little feet—and some fairish big ones, too, for the matter of that—chased the all too fast-flying moments; waltz and pas de qnatre followed polka and schottisch; each in turn afforded delicious reason for graceful movement, joyous laughter and infantile flirtation—of course lovely eyes of 8 only looked love to eyes of 10, while sweet sixteen gazed demurely on. Delight was on every fair face, and ravished the hearts of the fond mothers looking on, who saw in the happiness of their little ones the remembrance of their own childish days. The fairy sight was of itself a full reward for the generous donors of the feast, since it should be mentioned that the hosts were more or less the same who gave the juvenile dance last year, though this year it was placed under the management of the Jubilee Committee.

The evening's entertainment was varied by Frank Brown's little duettists, the Bisaccia, a musical sketch, and a magic lantern, which, by the bye, sounded the key-note of the day by throwing on the screen an admirable likeness of Her Majesty, which was at once greeted with the enthusiastic singing of "God save the Queen" by all present. Seen from the gallery the large and beautiful hall presented a perfectly fairy appearance. In short the dance was a brilliant success, and will long dwell in the memory of all who had the pleasure to be there.

To give a list of the names of the children present, and of the indefatigable stewards who led the dances would fill too many columns; suffice it to say that there was hardly an English family, the lines of which had fallen in the pleasanter places, that was not represented among the gay throng.

JUBILEE BANQUET.

One of the most pleasant celebrations of Her Majesty's Jubilee was that which took place last night at the Café Paris, when the executors of the late Mr. T. A. Walker, gave a banquet to the united staffs of the Buenos Aires Harbour Works. Mr. E. M. Simpson made a most excellent chairman, and was well supported by Messrs G. Rankin, G. R. Davenport and J. Talbot, Sr., as vice-chairmen. The table was beautifully decorated, one of the most conspicuous objects being a bust of Her Majesty. The excellent menú having been done full justice to, the toasts began, Mr. J. M. Dobson proposing the health of Her Majesty in most felicitous terms. The company rose to the occasion and "God Save the Queen" was sung by all those present. He was followed by Sr. E. B. Madero and Sr. Silveyra who both spoke of the wonderful influence exercised by Her Majesty in all parts of the world. Mr. Simpson proposed the health of H. E. the President of the Argentine Republic mentioning the fact that he had taken great interest in everything connected with the Jubilee celebration. Various other toasts were proposed and with songs and speeches the evening was passed in a most agreeable manner.

Amongst those present we may mention the following:—G. Rankin, H. A. Ritchie, E. H. Liversidge, G. C. Cranford, G. F. Wallis, A. F. Ogan, G. B. Tompkins, G. Gonsalves, T. Troughton, L. Taurel, G. R. Davenport, E. U. Lange, F. J. Cassini, G. F. Harris, A. M. B. Matienzo, A. E. Martin, E. O. Vanrees, F. Adam, H. G. Bennett, J. Talbot, H. S. Plowman, W. D. Junor, E. H. Harrison, G. S. Murray, L. Silveyra, E. B. Madero, E. U. Simpson. J. M. Simpson, J. M. Dobson, C. Massini, S. H. Bolton, W. D. Close, C. E. Pratt, W. Brown and J. H. Talbot.

LA PLATA

(From our own Correspondent.)

June 24th.

The Deputies will meet to-morrow and resume the discussion of the Bill to reduce the tariffs in this port.

The members of the Education Board have been summoned to meet to-morrow at 2 p.m.

The several "gremios" of this city met to-day in the Hall of the "Positiva" Society, and named their Committee for the coming Municipal elections.

THEATRES AND AMUSEMENTS.

Boito's 'Mefistofele' was given last night for the first time at the Opera with Cesira Ferrani as the heroine, De Lucia as Faust, and Rossi as Mefistofele. As was to be expected, the prologue, under the splendid direction of Maestro Mascheroni, had partly to be repeated; but it seems to us, that Goethe's impersonation of Faust was different from that brought before the intelligent public of Buenos Aires by De Lucia, and we advise him to study the immortal work more earnestly. Of course the third act was admirably rendered by the gifted prima donna Signorina Ferrani, together with de Lucia, and they were called before the curtain three times as well as Rossi, indeed so they were after the fourth act in which Ferrani was really bewitching as Elena and brought the house down. All round, we think that with a little more study, the next representation will be more complete.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

"The Jubilee is over; "gracias á Dios," and "God save the Queen." Such was the general exclamation in English-speaking circles yesterday. Who can again say that Britishers "take their pleasures sadly"; they disproved this during the "Sixty Years Reign" racket here and in all other places where they reside on this planet o' which they own a pretty considerable part. The weather was crispy and delightful yesterday; but St. John kept his traditional "veranito" in his pocket. The news from India, (see telegrams) was an ugly note in the Jubilee concert. The official opening of the Madero Port was the event of the day, and we give full details of the racket in another column. From rheumatic Europe there wasn't much news of interest. Strange to say, there were more accidents in London on Wednesday owing to the overcrowded state of the streets than on Tuesday, the Jubilee day; and the Cabbies caused most of them. Some of them proved fatal. During the fetes, the Princess of Naples was the favourite with both populace and aristocracy, she is so "simpatica" and pretty. The peace negotiations between Greece and Turkey are in the same stick-in-the mud state. The Russian Bear is quietly massing his troops near the Balkans, and "Felix Austria" is getting a trifle alarmed.

Old Todo-el-Mundo wasn't at home yesterday; he was out enjoying the fine day, in his best clothes, and his Señora also; and the streets were rather empty-looking, till he came back on his way to the three D's—"dulce domum" and dinner, after which the old man went either to church, bed, or the theatre.

Teacher: "What is the capital of Turkey?"

We greatly regret to say that the condition of Dr. Don Eduardo Costa was not improved yesterday; and his friends are still in the most painful state of doubt as to the result of his illness.

The R.M.S. Nile sails to-day for Jubileefied England; but when she gets there all the excitement will have fizzled, and King Grouse and Cook and his 'Arry and 'Arriet tourists will be cocks of the walk.

A stunning divorce case in Porteño high life is announced. The wife, a young and beautiful woman, is the plaintiff; and an evening colleague says that her pleas are "most original."

The following list, shows the real estate holdings in New York City of some of the principal wealthy individual holders. Many wealthy New Yorkers are not large owners of real estate. Some corporations are very large owners but we give only one of them. The figures are all in millions of gold dollars:—W. W. Astor 110; Trinity Church Corporation 100; J. J. Astor 70; Ogden and Robert Goelet 35; Amos R. Eno 35; Arnold Constable Estates 12; D. B. Potter Estate 11; Elbridge T. and Louise M. Gerry 10; Alfred Corning, Clarck Estate and Jacob Wendel each 8, James McGrear and W. Rhinelander, each 7; George Ehert, D. O. Mills, Solomon Loeb, each 6; Furniss Estate, Rosevelt Estate, Stokes Estate, D. W. James, and Mathew, Wilkes, each 5. The number of those owning from 1 to 5 millions dollars worth of real estate is altogether too numerous to mention.

The New York papers say that since the strict enforcement of the closed season for deer on Long Island, the animals have become a great nuisance in parts of the island not 60 miles from New York City. They have recently entered vegetable gardens and grain fields in large numbers at night, doing great damage. Wild deer damaging crops within 60 miles of New York City certainly sounds funny. Another queer thing is, that large droves of horses, from one to four thousand in a drove, are over-riding the country in the extreme North West of the States, and proving a great nuisance. The horses will not bring $3 per head, and large, strong dogs in the same region are worth from 6 to 10 times that figure, being purchased to ship to the Alaska mines, to draw sledges.

Charcoal is an excellent friend, but a very dangerous enemy when treated ignorantly. One man was yesterday killed by its fumes, and another only just escaped with his life. No doubt the bitterly cold weather is principally responsible for these accidents, as, during it, fearful of the cold, it is a common custom to close every chink, while the charcoal is burning up in the room.

The American eagle and the Castilian lion are fraternizing in the Plate. The U. S. S. Castine had hardly arrived when her officers were invited to a dance at the Spanish Club where they were bewitched by the charms of the Señoritas. Yesterday afternoon the most distinguished members of the Spanish colony went on board the Castine to witness the presidential promenade, which was followed by a dance. Captain Berry, the Commander of the Castine, received the guests, accompanied by his wife, whose charm and tact made every one feel at home. Want of space compels us to postpone a full description of the fete until our nex issue.

The funeral of the Captain's coxwain of the Beagle, Allen Bowler, who fell into a hole near Dock 4 the other night and broke his neck, will leave the ship in Dock 4 this morning at 9 o'clock for the Chacarita Cemetery.

We have just received the sad news of the death at Salto (Uruguay) of Don Saturnino Rives, owner of the river steamship line "Mensagerias Fluviales." Although it was known that he was suffering from diabetes, his death was most unexpected. It is a only few months since we published an article by our Senior Editor describing how Don Saturnino, by his energy and business talents, rose from the position of musician in the orchestra of a Montevideo theatre to that of proprietor of one of the most important steamship companies of the River Plate. His death may cause important changes in River Plate shipping affairs.

Advices from the Cape about the Locusts show that Professor Bruner is right. The latest papers from that Good Hope quarter say that tests of a parasitic fungus there promise an effective remedy against locust swarms, large numbers of the insects having died a few days after infection of a few specimens.

The following story comes from Germany. The Emperor, on viewing a number of American etchings, which he subsequently bought, remarked: "Great fellows, these Americans. They are the coming great artists of the world."

Our hard-up Chilian friends are fast edging towards Shinplasters again. The Government has presented to Congress two financial projects. The one provides for the issue, with the intervention of the Government, of fully guaranteed convertible bank notes, and the other provides for the disposal of the surplusage of the Conversion Fund!!

We are sorry to learn that, while our countrymen at Campana were sending Jubilee rockets and bombs towards heaven, one of them burst in the mortar and wounded four men, John Marshall who applied the fire; Pedro Ricotti; William Noel, and José Castro, who were standing near. None of them are in danger, happily.

During the short, sharp and decisive struggle between Greek and Turk the barbers of Greece caught the war madness. A council of the "Coiffeurs d'Athens" was held at the Café Harmodius, and there in the temple of freedom a solemn vote was taken: "Considering the attitude of Germany towards Greece and the Athenians, it is hereby resolved that the League of the Barbers of Greece do refuse for any consideration of money or interest to shave the German Ambassador, or cut his hair."

Consul Baker, we are happy to state, was reported to be getting on nicely yesterday; in fact, he couldn't possibly be doing better, the doctors say, considering the dreadful nature of his injuries. The affairs of the Consulate are in the hands of Mr. L. W. Chute, of the well-known firm of Chute and Brooks, who is the Vice-Consul in B. Aires.

In another column we publish a plan for the settlement of the everlasting Cuban revolution, that seems thoroughly practicable, if the noble Dons can only bury their pride sufficiently to consider the cold facts of the case, as it stands at present.

The Hawaiian question has caused great disgust in political circles in Berlin, so it is said. The North German Gazette says that Germany must submit to the annexation because she has not a navy strong enough to prevent it. What earthly interest has the Government of William II in Hawaii?

The following paragraph from an exchange will interest our numerous subscribers in the English Railway workshops of this country:—"Evidences of the value of the respirators in working in a dusty atmosphere have been noted by the French Northern Railway Company. A man employed in the company's paint-grinding mill for 33 years had been on the sick list about a month every year, but since being supplied with a respirator in 1895 he has been able to continue at work without interruption. This is given as a single illustration of the general improvement in the health of the employes since the introduction of suitable respirators".

25 DE MAYO 112

The "Volapük", or Universal Language craze, is to the fore again. We received yesterday a number of fly-sheets about it. "The linguistic disaster at Babel" is rather good. Here is an extract:—For several hundred of years eminent minds have labored upon the problem of how to correct the linguistic disaster at Babel, and several hundred attempts have been made to form a language which might be common to all the nations of the earth, of which only one has received that acceptance necessary to make it worthy the earnest attention of busy minds, and that one is Volapük. This wonderful language was the invention of Joh. Martin Schleyer of Konstanz, Baden, Germany. Volapük simplifies commercial intercourse and correspondence. Mercantile intercourse by means of certain correspondents, commissioners, interpreters, dragomen and intermediate merchants, becomes often a very complicated, time-consuming, unsafe and expensive intercourse. Thus Germany for instance has, according to statistical calculation, lost in the year 1889, on an export of 4,000 millions of marks, not less, than 400 millions of marks, hence just 10%. But all these expensive commissioners, intermediate merchants and associates would be superfluous as soon as Volapük was introduced everywhere. Therefore, even you, oh! Germany! promote and propagate Vp., and you will gain 400 millions every year."

His Sublimity the Sultan has conferred the title of Pasha on M. Hanotaux, French Minister of Foreign Affairs, and all the wags and wits in Paris now call him 'Hanotaux Pasha,' and want to know why he does not sport a fez instead of a shining silk chimney-pot on his undoubtedly clever head?

We are requested to announce that a concert will be given to-morrow (Saturday) evening at the Sailors' Home, in the Boca, commencing p.m. Admission free.

Progress breeds wants; and go-ahead Bahia Blanca is now experiencing the truth of this politico-economical saw. The sanitary arrangements of the place are of the very worst, and drainage and waterworks on a scientific scale will soon be a problem for the future Argentine Liverpool to solve.

The wide circle of friends and admirers of the Zoo at Palermo will be delighted to learn that the Lord Mayor, not wishing to see any of them eaten alive, has ordered new buildings and cages for the wild beasts to be erected. Their present cages are so insecure that, like the Polar bear, if anything were to frighten or anger them, they could bound through them with the same ease as one of Frank Brown's troupe or Frank himself, through a tissue paper hoop, and go on a man-eating picnic through the city and suburbs. The times are so miserably dull that nothing short of some such an event can rouse them up: still, we should by no means wish to see it come off.

It wont do, ladies. Can't be done. The War Minister, gallant as he is to the fair sex, is not very likely to consent to the fair dames of the Asilo Naval holding charity bazaars on board the Argentine war vessels now in port. It would play Cupid and old Harry with officers and crew, who would all fall head and ears in love with the fair visitors, and be unable to do their duty for six months to come.

We cannot refrain from mentioning that during the Jubilee banquet at Messrs. Funes and Lagos's on Tuesday last our colleague Lœwenstein, who made a most able reply on behalf of the local press, toasted the United States of America, coupling with the toast the names of the worthy Minister Mr. Buchanan and that Grand Old Consul Mr. Edward Baker. He also expressed the sincerest wishes for the speedy recovery of that gentleman. There is also no doubt that the great success of the banquet is due to the combined efforts of Messrs. John Foster, Rodolfo Lagos and Carlos Nelson.

The rate on fifteen grammes will be 80 cents (in gold) and on fractional excesses 10 cents. Money, watches' jewelry, and such importations as are prohibited by law will be excluded from the service. The tax on exported bananas will be suspended from and after July 1st next."

REGISTERED KENT OR ROMNEY MARSH SHEEP

The attention of flockmasters through out the world is called to the above breed of sheep, which is establishing a reputation second to none, both at home and abroad.

Australia, New Zealand, the Argentine Republic, Cape Colony and Natal South Africa and the Falkland Islands have found them most valuable in that before any other sheep they readily adapt themselves to climatic variations and thrive upon any sort of feed.

The characteristics of the Kent or Romney Marsh breed are the production of mutton of the highest quality with a large proportion of lean meat, the rendering of a heavy fleece of good demi-lustre wool and the greatest possible thriftiness.

These sheep graze evenly over any land upon which they are depastured and do not herd together, as is the case with many other breeds.

For crossing with other breeds, the Romney Marsh stands unequalled, brining as it does a hardy constitution combined with great kindliness points which are all important in a grazing animal.

Full information and a list of Breeders of Registered Kent or Romney Sheep can be obtained from W. W. Chapman, Secretary of the Kent or Romney Marsh Sheep Breeders' Association, Fitzalan House, Arundel Street, Strand, London, England.

HAMPSHIRE DOWN SHEEP.

Splendid mutton, good wool, great weight. This highly valuable

English Breed of Sheep

is unrivalled in its rapid and

Wonderfully Early Maturity,

Possessing, too, a hardiness of Constitution adapted to all climates, whilst in the quality of

Mutton and large proportion of Lean

MEAT, IT IS UNSURPASSED.

At the Great Smithfield Club Show in London December, 1896. Hamphire Downs exceeded any other breed in the number of entries. The Live Weight of the 22 Pens of Wether Lambs exhibited (3 to a pen) averaged no less than 197 lbs per lamb at 10½ months old, and a pen of these lambs stood Reserve for the Champion Plate for the best Short-woolled Sheep in the Show, against Wethers 21½ months old. A Hampshire Down also took First Prize in the Dead Carcase Competition against all other Short-woolled Breeds.

KEATING'S LOZENGES.

KEATING'S LOZENGES.
KEATING'S LOZENGES.

"A Simple Fact about" KEATING'S COUGH LOZENGES. Ask through the world, in any country that can be named, you will find them largely sold. There is absolutely no remedy that is so speedy in giving relief, so certain to cure and yet the most delicate can take them.

"A TERRIBLE COUGH."
"A TERRIBLE COUGH."

"94 Commercial Road, Peckham, July 12

"Dear Sir,—I am a poor hand at expressing my feelings, but I should like to thank you. Your lozenges have done wonders in relieving my terrible cough. Since I had the operation of 'Tracheotomy' (the same as the late Emperor of Germany, and unlike him, thank God, I am still alive), performed at St. Bartholomew's Hospital, no one could possibly have had a more violent cough it was so bad at times that it quite exhausted me. The mucus, which was very copious and hard, has been softened, and I have been able to get rid of it without difficulty.—I am, sir, yours truly, J. HILL

UTTERLY UNRIVALLED.
UTTERLY UNRIVALLED.

The above speaks for itself. From strict inquiry it appears that the benefit from using Keating's Cough Lozenges is under stated. The operation was a specially severe one, and was performed by the specialist, Dr. H. I. Butlin, of St. Bartholomew's Hospital. Since the operation the only means of relief is the use of these Lozenges. So successful are they that one affords immediate benefit although from the nature of the case the throat irritation is intense.

WEIGHT IN GOLD.
WEIGHT IN GOLD.

Under date Sept. 8th. 1891, Mr. Hill again writes:—"I should long since have been dead but for your Lozenges,—they are worth their weigh in gold. I will gladly are and tell anyone what a splendid cough remedy they are."

Keating's Cough Lozenges, the unrivalled remedy for Coughs, Hoarseness, and Throat Troubles, are sold in Tins and Bottles by all Chemists.

SPORT.

RACING IN THE PARK.

For a wonder, with all the broken weather we have had, everything went well meteorologically yesterday, though there was a sting in the breeze to remind us that autumn is past and winter in. From a racing point of view we also did well, though the classic was as usual an upset, falling to Colombia after a close squeeze with Pergamino from the stand home, and the issue was all the more unexpected that since the mare last year beat Imperio in 1,200 metres, from start to finish, she since that has done nothing till yesterday to confirm that running. She had not much in hand at the finish, but she was able to stay off Pergamino every stride in the last 100 metres, which is something. Blue Boat ran a pig and we much fear that his brilliant victory a fortnight or so ago was not free from a big slice of luck. Alacran cracked up when he seemed to have the race in hand and finished lame. Lavalle played the role of dead man in the procession, and Mangrullo figured as a mute. That finished the tale of yesterday's classic, the Lawry stakes. Orleans started a good favorite for the first event and won almost from start to finish. The Juncal stable have got nothing very wonderful in Osado, as in the second event for 2 year old losers, after getting well away and coming into the straight with 2 or 3 lengths advantage he stuck his toes in 100 metres from home, and refused to struggle an inch, Citoyenne winning easily. The jockey of Chaipuél made the grave error of thinking he could wear down a big field of all weights in the long distance; the mare made all the running to the stand and then gave in. Don Gonzalo very well ridden by Aguilera getting just enough the better of Talma in the last 50 metres to secure the verdict, with Jean Bart a very close third. Pompeyo broke a long spell of ill-luck by showing a clear pair of heels to Yanquetrú and Chingolo in the next, winning very cleverly, and the sprint was a gift for Daza, as he rattled right through his field at the finish. There was a big field for the final, a round dozen turning out of which Hermit proved the best by a couple of lengths which brought business to a close.

The details are as follow:—

Premio Nemo.

Handicap for all horses with one years residence in the country and have not won more than $3,000. Distance 1,600 metres. Prize $1,500 to the 1st and 100 to the 2nd.

	Yrs.	Kls.
Stud La Redencion, Orleans, by Orbit out of Moissonneuse	3	52	1
Stud Temerario, Redoutable	3	45	2
Sd. Las Armas, Zafarrancho II	3	45	3

Also ran—Nemo, Voltigeur, Tiradentes, Dante, Galatea, Vengador, Margot, Aguila, Descubridor, Etrain.

Voltigeur was tha first to shew in front, but the running was soon taken up by Orleans who was never subsequently headed, winning easily by about a length, a similar distance separating second and third, with Aguila a fair fourth.

Sport—Orleans $6.07. Placé 3.41; Redoubtable 8.18; Zafarrancho II 13.91.

Premio Kean.

For all 2-years olds that have run twice and not won. Distance 1000 metres. Prize $1700 to the 1st and $150 to the 3rd.

	Yrs.	Kls
Stud Los Cardos, Citoyenne by Gay Hermit, out of Princess	2	50	1
Ecurie Juncal, Osado	2	52	2
J. B. Zubiaurre, Blandengue	2	52	3

Also ran — Primavera, Guttemberg, Huapi, Centella, Lavinia, Hylda II, Onagh.

At the second or third attempt the flag went down with Osado in the van. Rounding the bend he pulled his way clean to the front and led into the straight with a couple of lengths' clear advantage. At the paddock, however, Citoyenne drew up and soon getting the upper hand won very cleverly by 1½ lengths. Blandengue was a moderate third and Centella fourth.

Sport — Citoyenne 7.59. Placé 2.97; Osado 3.17; Blandengue 5.24.

Premio Lawry.

For all 3 years old horses and upwards. Distance 1600 metres. Prize $4000 to the 1st, 500 to the 2nd.

	Yrs.	Ks.
Petite Ecurie, Colombia by Gay Hermit out Ambassadress	3	51	1
Ecurie Pergamino, Pergamino	3	53	2
Stud Los Cardos, Alacran	3	53	3

Also ran—Blue Boat, Mangrullo, General Lavalle, Rosemary, Daine.

Alacran was the first to clear the bushes with Blue Boat at his heels, and the others bunched. Racing down the back stretch Pergamino and Daine shot up to Blue Boat, the three running abreast about 2 lengths behind the leader, and with Colombia close up. In this order the straight was reached where Blue Boat cried off, and Colombia taking Pergamino with her raced up to Alacran's head. The latter compounded at the stand, and left the pair to thresh out a close finish which ended in favor of the mare by a head. Alacran finished lame. Lavalle was a poor fourth, and Blue Boat was beaten off.

Sport—Colombia $12.47. Placé 5.63. Pergamino 6.36.

Premio Blue Boat.

Handicap for all horses limited between 63 and 48 kilos. Prize $2,500 to the 1st and $250 to the 2nd. Distance 1800 metres.

	Yrs.	Ks.
Stud Don Gonzalo's Don Gonzalo by Olimpus out of Paula	3	50½	1
Stud Los Cardos's Talma	3	54½	2
Ecurie Prisionero's Jean Bart	3	53½	3

Also ran—Rose Royale, Zig-Zag, Regalona, Rigoletto, Estinge, Chaipuel, Estudiante and Rayon d'Or.

At the third attempt the flag went down to a good start, Chaipuel settling down pace maker with Rayon d'Or and Talma at her heels, just shewing in front of the bunch. There was no change till the bottom bend where Rayon d'Or retired, and was replaced by Don Gonzalo. At the stand Chaipuel gave out, and was passed by Talma, who, in turn, tackled from the outside by Don Gonzalo, succumbed by a neck. Jean Bart was a very good third and Chaipuel a bad fourth.

Premio Orange.

For all two year old colts and fillies. 3 ks extra to the winners of one race, 5 ks to those of two, and of those of three or more—7 ks. Distance 1300 metres. Prize $1800 to the 1st, and 150 to the 2nd.

FOOTBALL.

BELGRANO B. v. PALERMO A.C.

The above league fixture was played off at Belgrano yesterday before a fair number of spectators and finally resulted in a win for the latter by 2 goals to 1.

The game was started at 2.45 and Belgrano having won the toss, selected the Railway goal with a slight breeze in their favour. The game ruled very even all through the first half, the ball travelling rapidly from one end of the field to the other and when the whistle sounded for half time, neither side had scored.

After a few minutes interval the game was re-started, and Palermo, having the wind in their favour, showed up better than in the first half, and were at times very close on scoring, but owing to the splendid play of Barker in goal, Palermo were unable to score until about twenty minutes after the start. Palermo then made a determined attack, and owing to the fine play of Stirling and Jordan, the latter was able to score.

From the kick off Palermo again took possession, and the ball being neatly dribbled down the field by Campbell, who passing it to Jordan enabled him to score the second goal for Palermo.

From the kick off Belgrano now took the leather down the field, where W. Dickinson after a good dribble, centred the ball to Brodie where this player by a good shot, scored first blood for Belgrano amidst deafening cheers from the spectators.

From the kick off Belgrano again took possession where the brothers Dickinson after a good run down the geld, centred the ball to MacFarlane, but this player unluckily kicked over the bar, and the whistle blowing for time the scores remained as above stated. Palermo 2, Belgrano B. 1.

For Palermo the brothers Campbell, Rugeroni and Stirling distinguished themselves, while for Belgrano B. Baker in goal was a host in himself; the brothers Dickinson, Brodie and Pixton were the pick of the forwards and at back the brothers Boyd were a tower of defence.

The following were the teams:

Goal—E Potter.

Backs—J B Campbell and A Rugeroni.

Half-backs—T Mullally, J Mc Culloch, and J C Lea.

Belgrano B:—

Goal—R. Barker.

Backs—J. R. Boyd and J. H. Boyd.

Half-backs—H. Fraser, G. L. S. Wood, E.W. Davies.

Forwards—W. Dickinson, E Dickinson, R Macfarlane, E. M. Pixton, A. Brodie.

Mr. C. C. Mackenzie kindly acted a referee to the satisfaction of all concerned.

BELGRANO A. v. LOMAS A.C.

This League Match played in Lomas yesterday, created intense excitement, about 500 spectators being present, amongst whom the cries for the success of both sides were incessant. The game, from beginning to end was first rate, both teams trying their very utmost to win the game.

Belgrano won the toss, and elected to defend the Lanus-end goal, what wind there was being in their favor. For some time play was confined to the centre of the field, but G.E. Leslie soon rushed the ball down to the Belgrano end, and kicked wide of the posts. Belgrano began to attack, but the Lomas backs relieved, and the game was carried on in the neighbourhood of the visitors, goal, Colson having to kick out to save. Lomas began to show their superiority, and and from a splendid centre by Boutell, the first goal was scored for the home team. From the kick off the ball was carried to Lomas quarters and they had to concede a corner. The ball was well placed but J. Wright saved and the game was once more close to the visitors goal, two splendid shots by G. Leslie and C. Gibson being fisted out, but immediately after, the first named, assisted by Stirling made the second goal for Lomas. From the kick off Belgrano had to concede two corners, but the ball was carried to mid field and from excellent passing on part of the forwards, Ibbitson was enabled to score for the visitors. Hands against Lomas took the ball to the home quarters, but the backs relieved and the game was once more close to the Belgrano goal, and things were looking very dangerous, when Botting with a long kick, sent to ball near the home goal. Play now ruled in the centre, but Belgrano got the better of the game, and the ball was carried down by Negron, who, however, kicked behind. For the remaining part of the first half Belgrano attacked very strongly and play was confined almost entirely to the home quarters, Ibbitson at one time having the goal entire at his mercy, but, in the act of kicking, slipped and the chance was lost.

Again Belgrano attacked and three times in succession the ball was kicked behind, but after many struggles Lomas carried the play close to the Belgrano goal, but the backs were too strong and at half time the score remained two goals to one in favor of Lomas.

During the second half the game was very fast, both sides doing all in their power to score. Now the ball was close to the Lomas goal, and again it was near the Belgrano home. A splendid dribble on part of Negron was defeated by A. Anderson, and the ball was once more close to the Belgrano goal, when, after a desperate struggle it was put through. From this point to the finish of the game, Belgrano tried hard to equalize, but it was useless, and the game ended in favor of Lomas by three goals to one.

The result of this game places Lomas at the head of the League Competition, but many games have yet to be played and the future of the struggle will be eagerly looked forward to.

For Lomas, all the forwards played splendidly, their passing being almost perfect, and the back were very nearly impassable whilst for Belgrano the backs and half backs played superbly, but there was a want of combination amongst the forwards.

Belgrano :—

Goalkeeper—J. Mackechnie.

Backs—F. Moore and H. Botting.

Half-backs—H. Roberts, J. Roy and H. Colson.

Forwards—W. Harvey, H. Rugeroni, T. Ibittson, G. Macfarlane and J. Negron.

Lomas :—

Goal E. Ritchie.

Backs—A. Anderson, W. Leslie.

Half-backs—H. P. Wright, F. H. Jacobs. J. Wright.

Forwards—F. J. C. Boutell, C. Gibson, J. O. Anderson, W. Stirling, G. E. Leslie.

SCIENCE NOTES.

"GARRAPATAS" OR TICKS.

Perhaps it might not be unadvisable ot explain the true object of these "science notes." They are written with the object of affording the readers of the STANDARD accurate information on the subjects on which they treat, so far as such information can be compressed into the limits of a short article, so that those who read them may be "up to date" upon some of the very interesting and often important questions which come within the range of the scientific observer. If at times the articles extend beyond the limits of the naturalist's sphere, this extension is due to the desire to make them as complete as possible; and if I can make my articles more complete, more interesting, or more accurate by references to authorities, I shall not hesitate to do so, even at the risk of being taunted with getting my information from books rather than from my inner consciousness. Having in some previous papers shewn that, according to the most modern and most reliable authorities, there is a close connection between "Tristeza" and ticks or "garrapatas" as they are called in many parts of Spanish America, a few words about ticks may not be uninteresting.

Ticks belong to that otherwise, very harmful and very unpleasant section of the animal kingdom at the head of which stand the Spiders and Scorpions, and amongst the rank and file of which are the "bicho Colorado", the "sarna" (or scab) mite, and the unmentionable "itch mite". So that ticks are certainly found amongst a very bad lot of acquaintances. Unfortunately, their own reputation is not any better than that of their "parientes."

They are "Parasites", and of the worst type, bloodsuckers. They are found on all domestic and very many wild animals, and unlike the majority of parasites, they are not very exclusive in their attachments. Most species of animals have their special parasites which are true to them and do not care to leave them for others. The dog flea wears a different kind of collar from that worn by the cat flea; and the human flea wears no collar at all. But, although ticks have special attachments, they are not very exclusive, and the dog tick is frequently found on sheep and cattle, and in the miniature stages upon hares, rabbits and similar animals. There are two distinct kinds of "ticks". In one kind (Ixodes) the "head" is at the front end of the body. In the other kind (Argas) the "head" is below the body, almost in the centre of the under side. I have put the words "ticks" and "head" in inverted commas, because the tick has no true head. The part so called usually is really a rostrum or beak. This rostrum is a moveable organ, which contains the apparatus possessed by the tick for making an incision into the body of the host and for extracting its blood. This apparatus consists of a pair of toothed mandibles which are brought together to form a pointed weapon for the purpose of making an opening into the skin. When this opening is made, the two parts are pressed apart and hook themselves into the flesh, leaving room for the introduction of a curious composite organ, called the maxillary lip or dart. This latter organ is armed with a varying number of rows of recurved teeth or hooks, so tenacious in their grasp that it is almost impossible to remove a tick from its nest without either pulling off the rostrum of the tick or bringing away with the tick a tiny piece of flesh attached to the dart lip. It is by the number and arrangement of teeth in this organ that the ticks are recognized, rather than by colour, which often changes very much during life.

The female tick is oviparous and lays a large number of eggs in the grass. These eggs issue from a small orifice just below the rostrum or beak, although exuded one at a time; they are piled up by the tick on the "top of her head" or to speak more scientifically around the front margin of the body and over the rostrum. When all are exuded the tick leaves them in the grass to mature, and she herself, having practically emptied herself of her whole inside in the performance of her maternal duties, becomes a flat, shrivelled object to whom life is of no further use, and she accordingly dies. The laying of the eggs may extend over several weeks.

After a short period, the eggs are hatched and the young larval ticks come forth. At this time, like mites, they have only six legs. They can live for a long time, for many months even, without food; but as a rule, they seize the first opportunity of attaching themselves to some passing dog, sheep, horse or cow, whose blood they suck. They then change into a "nymph," as naturalists very unpoetically call the intermediate stage between a larva and a perfect insect or mite, when that stage is an active one, and not in the form of a pupa or chrysalis. The nymphs have eight legs and are soon transformed into the true sexual male and female ticks. During these transformations the colour changes so that it is by no means unusual to find ticks of the same species of different colours. The female, when she fixes herself to her host comes to stay, and, when she has sucked her fill, her body becomes extremely distended and appears, sometime like a large coffee bean, at other times like the seed of the castor oil plant (Ricin) and even, attaining in some species, as in one which is found on cattle in Natal, the length of three quarters of an inch.

When the female has drunk her fill and her body has become to all intents and purposes an egg sac, she voluntarily quits her host and falls among the grass, where she lays her eggs. The process of egg-laying is sometimes accompanied by a temporary change of colour, a chocolate coloured female become purple and so on; but this colour recedes on any intermission of the egg laying.

Ticks are essentially summer visitants, although adults are frequently found even in winter in this country, especially in the more northern, and therefore, warmer provinces. Mr. Methven recently forwarded me some forms, allied to, if not identical, with the dog tick, found in Santiago del Estero. They were in the full performance of their maternal duties, and laid their eggs in the match box in which they were confined.

There are several species of ticks found in Argentina. The species found in Santiago del Estero and some other parts, is almost exactly like the seed of the castor oil plant insize, colour and markings, but other species are chocolate coloured and others are white.

The name "garrapatas" is common throughout Spanish America from Mexico, southwards. Its derivation is too obvious to need explanation. The old Greek naturalist Aristotle called them "Cynorhaestes," or dog tormentors, but their usual name now-a-days is 'ticks' or 'tiques. Man is by no means free from the attacks of these creatures, and many cases are recorded of serious results arising from their bites. Usually, in animals they do little harm and do not appear to trouble their hosts; but occasionally they produce very severe losses, especially among lambs and other young animals: and even among adult cattle heavy losses have been experienced owing to the attacks of the larger species of ticks. I am of course referring to actual losses due to the ticks themselves and not to losses indirectly due to them, as in the case of "tristeza".

At the present time Drs. Even and Sivori and other competent observers are engaged in studying the best methods of getting rid of the "garrapatas", and probably, as the importance of the question has been recoguized, some practical result will be obtained. The difficulty is that methods which answer perfectly in small "potreros" and with tame animals, break down at once when applied on a large estancia with wild cattle.

TOMAS CHORAL SOCIETY.

Next Monday evening 28th inst., the above society's concert in commemoration of the Diamond Jubilee and in aid of the British and American Benevolent Society takes place in Prince George's Hall. The programme is most appropriate, comprising as it does Mendelssohn's Hymn of Praise (Lobgesang). Sir Arthur Sullivan's Te Deum, especially dedicated to Her Majesty, and Mr. Michael Costa's arrangement of the National Anthem, as sung at all the Handel festivals held at the Crystal Palace.

We hear on good authority that the Lomasites uuder the conductorship of Mr. J. H. Wall have been working hard for the last two months at the works selected and when we consider that the choir and band is composed of 120 performers we can confidently predict a musical treat in store for all who are present on the night of the concert. Mrs W. Bennett and Mrs. Patrick Boyd have kindly consented to share the soprano solos between them; Rev. E. G. Cocks taking all belonging to tenor, and Mr. H.B. Owen will preside at the organ.

In drawing attention to this concert we do so with the earnest hope that all British residents in and around Buenos Aires will do their best to attend not only to enjoy a musical evening, but also to ensure a handsome surplus to a most deserving charity in aid of which the concert is given.
